Some 2,000 piculs of the Honan drug reaches the Tientsin market. Mr. CARRALL, of Chefoo, says the opium produced in Shantung port suffices to meet the local demand, which is said to increase yearly. The foreign opium imported is used to mix with the native drug. Mr. Honson, of Chungking, says that during 1891, 498 picula of Szechuen this port, and 51 piculs of Yunnan opium were exported from that port, and no foreign drug was imported. He gives some analyses made of old and new Bzechnen, new Yunuan, and Kweichow, made by Dr. Janieson, of Shanghai, which go to show that the native farmers have paid closer attention to the production of unadulterated drug during the past few years, and have succeded therein, whilst there is but little that with anything approaching noted Shippers are imported in wood and bottled a favoriable season, the outturn of the Kongses, concerning the course from Gorontalo poppy fields of Western China alone are ample to meet the ordinary requirements of pretty nearly the whole Empire. Indeed, as regards her opium supply. China is now practically independent.

At Hankow there is still a good demand for foreign opium, but the re-export of Szechuen and Yunnan drug to Shanghai was considerable, being nearly half as much as the foreign import. Kiukiang is supplied! with the Indian drug, and native opium is hardly heard of there. The import of foreign opium into Wuhu is also large, and that of 1891 showed a small increase over on Thursday next, the 3oth inst. the previous year. This was due probably to the fuct that the yield of the native crops in Kiangen and Anhwei was about thirty per cent. smaller than usual. The import of these kinds showed a material falling off, the amount being 410 piculs as compared with 1,500 piculs in 1890. Szechuen and Yunnan drug only reached Wuhn privately and in small quantities. Mr. Russell, at Chinking, says the native crop in 1891 was an unusually good one both in quantity and quality, being estimated at about 10,000 piculs. The quality of the drug has also leave Hongkong to-morrow at 9 s.m. and to regreatly improved and is likely to still further improve, and as it is mixed with the foreign article in that district its 'consumption may be expected to go on increasing. It was owing to its abundance and excel- try will play the following programme at the ence no doubt that the import last year of Gymkhama meeting on the Happy Valley to foreign drug declined by 251 piculs. A Shanghai the trade in foreign opium appears stationary and to be unaffected by its native rival. Mr. Bernon says it is noteworthy that 19 piculs of native opium was exported broad, to Sourshava and the Straits. I this the beginning of a new order of things-China figuring as an exporter of opium? The crew consists of 23 all told. The ship left Hongkong on May 21st bound for Iloilo in balanchorage at 8 a.m., being towed out of the harbour through the Lyeemoon Pass. About 11.30 we were were moderate and the weather fine. On the 115.50 E. and the ordinary reckoning gave 21.4 N. and 115.20 E., showing a current of 40' N.E. I took my departure from the Nine Pins. At 9.30 p.m. I got an observation of the Pole Star giving 21.25 N., which seem pointed out in a minute of his that one of the to prove that the current was still set ting in a Northerly direction. The following morning (the 28th) at 6.30 a.m. when according to my reckoning and allowing for the previous day's current the ship should have been in cases occur, which seems likely, it would the vicinity of Hossack Shoal. I had my second officer looking out for discoloured water. After the anchor was out I went away in a boat to sound. I found the least water between the ship and the reef to be 10 feet. Elsewhere it varied to two fathoms. A ship's length from the vessel there was four fathoms. The ship was drawing when we laft Hongkong 14 feet abaft and 13 feet 7 inches forward. I found that the tide was falling. It was about high water when we went on. We started to heave out ballast. I had clewed the sails up when I found the ship was hard and fast. We continued heaving out ballast and the next morning (the 29th) we laid out a stream anchor and steel wire hawser in the place of the other anchor on the starboard bow and the latter we took to the starboard quarter. When the tide rose we have on generally agreed by the members when the question was discussed that the interpreter, to the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon must be with the officer for whom he interprets and unless the interpreter is able to travel know from which dairies the apecimens of milk were membed by the members when the tide rose we have on them, but she did not move and we parted the fine of them, but she did not move and we parted the fine of them, but she did not move and we parted the fine of them, but she did not move and we parted the fine of them, but she did not move and we parted the fine of them in temperature. night. A heavy swell was then breaking lover the short and the wind had reered to the East with rain. On this day while employed in farling the foresail an a.b. named Lauren Anderson fell from nieft overboard and was not seen afterwards. He did not seem to strike any thing in his fall. By Captain Edwards -- My observations were checked by the chief officer. The ship was light and I allowed one and a half points of leeway. The ship was under all sail when she struck the wind being light. The leeway would be loss underall sail. The swell was from the S. J. on the way down to the Pratas.

By the President-I took the observations of the Pole Star myself. My mate is a certified" officer. He is the only entified officer on board. The ship was going about 3 knots when she went on the reef. Charles J. Saunders was next colled. In answer to the President he declared -I am first mate of the John McLind. I have a certificate granted in St. John's, N. B. Thave bean in the ship six months. On the 26th May we left Hongkong in ballast bound for Iloilo. I am in the habit of Mr. Eus-I beg to more the adoption of the assisting the captain in the navigation of the ship. I remember taking sights at accorden the 27th. I compared my result with the captain The Passenest-This report has been in and we agreed. I don't now remarker what it was. In the afternoon of that day I look sights for longitude. The result was entered in the log and was reported to the captain. That night I had the middle watch from 12 to 4 a.m. She was heading from S.E. by E. to E.S.E. under full sail going about 3 or 4 knots. I wont below at 4 a.m. The weather was misty but there was no rain. I had just turned out gud was looking out of the window when I heard the second mate ory out. "I see the bottom." also heard the captain say, " Wheel hard down. I ran on deck but by the time I reached the companion the ship had struck. The fore and aft sails were hauled down and yards braced aback and we tried to back her off. Then we haid out is kedge and hawser from the starbour i bow and a stream anchor and wire hawser from the starboard quarter, and hove them tight. The tide aren't more objectionable. I move that no was falling. Then we started to heave out ballast and worked night and day: I was sent in the long boat with four hands on the 31st to go to Hongkong for assistance. I reached Hongkong on Monday, June 6th. A gunboat went down the point a case was stated that took place in but I did not succeed in getting any other assistance. The agents telegraphed to Manila for their steamer coming from there to call off the Pratas and render what assistance they could, but the ship got off and arrived at Hongkong on the 9th. I worked up the ordinary reckening on the 27th. The observation put the ship some 40 to the castward of the ordinary reckoning. I worked the captain's sight in the afternoon. I did not take an observation myself. Our results agreed. I work my observations on a slate. I do not keep them after working, after they have been reported.

By Captain Edwards-I worked the course myself. I don't take what is told me. I watch it carefully. The course when it is my watch below I take from the slate on which they are entered by the second mate.

Capt. Hauderson, recalled, said-I have two chronometers. They were rated by Messra. Gaupp & Co. at Hongkong and are very good ones. I took an observation at 4 p.m. on the 27th and it agreed with the forencon sight. I marked the position of each on the chart (produced) at the time. Those positions can be now seen, I also took an observation of the Pole Star at 9.30 p.m.

John E. Macdonald, sworn, stated-I am second mate of the John McLeod. I have been in her about seven months. I do not work the ordinary reckening nor take observations. I keep watch and watch with the first mate, my watch being the captain's. Every slate the courses, &c., of the ship. The first mute takes them from the state and enters them in the log. I was on deak the morning the ship got on the Pratas Shoal. I came on deck at 4 a.m. I got orders to look out for dissolvered water after 4 o'clock. After daylight I went forward myself. Soon after 6 a.m. in looking over the and Chas. H. Durkee, master of the British ship the captain, who was aft. The captain ordered the belm to be put hard down, but the ship struck soon after. She had been making E.S.E. from about 4 am. until she strack and wa, doing about 3 knots. Capt. Henderson, again revalled, said -I am satisfied that the ship was well found in every way when she left Hongkong and she remained so until the time of the acoident. I am satisfied with the behaviour of my officers and crew.

This was all the evidence called, and after a last. I produce the official log. We left the deliberation of about half an hour the Court returned the following finding:-We find that the British ship John McLeod were abreast of the Nine Pins and the wind and (90.742) of which Oscar Henderson, the number of whose certificate is 1.999, is master, left Hong-27th I got my observations giving 21.30 N. and kong on the 26th of May last on a voyage to Iloile in ballast; that a departure was taken from the Nine Pine Rocks and a course set. "by the wind": that observations were taken on the 27th from which it would appear that a current had been experienced setting to the N.E. about 40 miles since leaving Hongkong; that on the morning of the 28th at about 6.30 a.m. the ship struck on the BW, edge of the Pratus Shoai, where she remained for ten days when she was got off and brought to Hoogkoog. Upon the evidence given the vessel appears to have been properly found and sufficiently menned, and was adequately supplied with oharts; that the master appears to have mavigat-

ed the ship in a careful member and to have taken all becessary processions. The Court is of opinion that the casualty was brought about through the uncertain currents in the vicinity. The master had taken precautions suggested by the ourrent experienced on the previous day, and was carrying out the recommendations in the China Pilot to pass the shoal on the loo side, but it appears that soon after noon on the 27th the set to the N.E. must have peased and that a set to the South had no means of ascertaining, Under the circumstances the Court does not attach any blame to .The Court is further of opinion that after given proper directions and deserves credit for his exertions which resulted in getting the ship off. The loss of one seaman, Laurence Anderson, is to be much regretted, but it does not appear that his death was immediately consed by the casualty, he having fallen from sloft while engaged in furling the foretop sail. As the Court attaches no blame to the muster his vertificate is returned to him. Given under our hands at Hougtong this 24th day of June, 1892

MIPERIAL QUARTO: ENNGLISH AND CHINESE DIC'S'IONARY. WITH THE PUSTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION.

An Angle-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of latey ears been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of spoce, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and racant spaces which have heretofore charactorised Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration: Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 800,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammers and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various appliostions and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages onables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasion-
